Batteries? Only ONE for Me

If you saw batteries every day as I do you'd say the same, and your choice—like mine—would be the Bone Dry Willard, with Threaded Rubber Insulation.

You'd know—as I do—that every Bone Dry Willard Battery is new when it's sold—ready to give full battery value.

We keep a complete stock of Bone Dry Batteries—every one as brand new as the day it left the factory. Not a one of them is ever filled or charged until it's made ready for USE.

Read more about this remarkable battery in the booklet, "196,000 Little Threads." It's yours for the asking.

Hard to Explain.

Has it ever been fully explained why it is that a man on a cold, raw day will sit four hours uncomplainingly on a hard board in a rowboat and hold a fish pole, yet squirm and fidget and fume if he is asked to sit more than an hour and fifteen minutes on a cushioned seat in a well-warmed church?

Didn't Like That Kind.

We had fried mush for breakfast and my little girl asked to be helped to some. I, selecting a nice brown piece, laid it on her plate, and she said, "Mother, I don't like rusty mush."—Chicago Tribune.

Got George in Wrong.

Little Ethel, whose big brother, George, was her teacher's beau, walked proudly to the desk with her examples worked neatly. The teacher, after looking them over, said "Ethel, I don't like your methods." "Well, then," said Ethel, "I'll tell my brother, George. He wrote them for me."

Well, Many Don't Seem to Have.

Robert was a thoughtful child and was used to reasoning out the "why" to his own questions. One day a little boy came in from next door. He asked questions continually and Robert finally looked at him curiously and said, "Haven't you a think of your own?"

One of the finest ways of celebrating the great victory is by doubling your gift for the United War Work fund.

"The only man who never makes a mistake is the man who never does anything. The same thing applies to newspapers.—Burlington News.

Your apology is accepted.

The Montpelier Argus truly says: "It is decidedly unsafe for a newspaper to anticipate the news. The chances are even that it cannot be successfully put over."

All draft calls have been suspended by order of Provost Marshal General Crowder. It was a sudden suspension and took many by surprise. In some places when the suspension order came, trains were just being made up for the November movement of troops. The announcement has been variously received. Probably the largest percentage of those affected were exceedingly well pleased at not having to go, after all; some probably were vexed, because they had closed out their business or given up good jobs all to no purpose; and still others, who actually wanted to fight, were angry because they are not to have the opportunity of getting a crack at the hated enemy. Perhaps some were disappointed at seeing their trip to the south suddenly disappear. But aside from a few disappointments as mentioned, the suspension order strikes a general chord of joy throughout the country.

Tunnels and Geology.

Geologists owe much of their knowledge of the Alps to the tunnels which have been bored through these mountains to make railway routes between the northern and southern parts of Europe. There has been no more important discovery made in this way than during the construction of the Loetschberg tunnel. This was the unexpected piercing of a great coal seam in the center of a mass of much younger Triassic stone.

Allegorical October.

In some of the calendars of our ancient Saxon ancestors the month of October is allegorically represented by the figures of a husbandman carrying a sack on his shoulder and sowing grain. It was the sowing of the fall or winter wheat, as we call it in this country.

Life's Greatest Handicap.

It is a sad thing to begin life with low conceptions of it. There is no misfortune comparable to a youth without a sense of nobility. Better be born blind than not to see the glory of life.—Theodore T. Munger.

Old Virginia Days

"... It was the primitive custom of the early Virginia planters to thrust a pole through the hog's head of tightly compressed tobacco and, thus rudely constructed as it was, the hoghead was trundled over the roadways to market."

—Notes of a Planter

The hauling of it has changed, but Virginia tobacco itself has not

It is a far cry from the rolling hogheads to the modern railroads and steamships which today bring Virginia tobacco into the markets of the world. And science has helped in other ways in the handling of Virginia tobacco.

But science cannot improve the golden Southern sunshine and the rich soil that make Virginia the best-tasting tobacco on earth for cigarettes. They give to it an appetizing freshness—a "lively," "snappy" taste unlike the flat taste of ordinary cigarettes.

"A package of Piedmonts, please."

The All-Virginia Cigarette

Piedmont CIGARETTES

NOTE: Each year now, about 5 times more Virginia tobacco is being made into cigarettes than all foreign-grown tobaccos combined. And Piedmont is the biggest-selling Virginia cigarette in the world.

FROM THE PENCIL'S POINT

A man who is fearless is never a liar.

Milk is often another name for a white lie.

A jolly good fellow is one who foots the bills.

Many women are single because they are singular.

Some men take an hour to make a ten-minute speech.

A hotel clerk's smile is an meaningless as a woman's no.

When an old bachelor has heart trouble it is of the platonic brand.

When a girl tells a young man she dreams about him, it's up to him to propose or take to tall timber.

Best Sugar Industry.

The United States and Spain are the only countries which produce both cane and beet sugar in any considerable quantity. The development of the beet-sugar industry in the United States has been one of the great agricultural and manufacturing growths of this country. From 1898 the beet sugar production in the United States increased from 50,000 tons to approximately 800,000 tons in 1915.

ASK CROCKERS FOR

When Man Ate Grass.

M. Marcel Baudouin, who has been examining some human remains, dating from the neolithic epoch (the latest period of the stone age), has presented the Academy of Science with a curious report. The shape of the incisor teeth of two young children of this distant epoch leads him to the conclusion that the present single root teeth of human beings are in reality a development from three germs, and that man is descended from the herbivorous animal with an ancestor possessing 32 dental germs.

The Supreme Test.

To retain our faith in our ideals when broken and trodden beneath men's feet in the dust, to know how to lay aside our inward sadness, to dismiss our enervating doubts and struggle on, to continue our march, sustained only by the thought of duty and an unyielding will, to make the most of life as it is given us—that is the supreme test of all great souls. That is the real victory of faith that overcometh the world.—Elwood Worcester.

Suspicious.

"Have you got a lawyer looking after your interest?" "Nominally; but I rather think he has his eye on my principal."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Nuts and Sirup in Candy.

It is a fact of common knowledge that nuts are very high in food value, those used principally in manufacturing confectionery being almonds, filberts, pecans, peanuts and walnuts, averaging approximately 1500 calories per pound. Corn sirup, erroneously called glucose, used largely in manufacturing gum drops, hard candies and taffies, is a pure, wholesome, transparent, heavy sirup, manufactured, as the name indicates, from corn.
